21st General Meeting of the
International Society of Limb Salvage

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

September 6-9, 2022

UCLA Luskin Conference Center
Los Angeles - USA

Statement to COVID-19 from the President

The COVID-19 pandemic has broadly impacted biomedical research. There may be long-term consequences and the effect on early career researchers has been particularly significant. Clinical practices and clinical projects additionally have had affected significantly. Some research facilities as well have been under locked-down affecting clinical trials, translational and basic science research. National and international scientific meetings have been on zoom instead of in -person. Just this summer and in some locations around the world are hotels and conference centers opening to host meetings. However, many of these meetings will be a hybrid model with a combination of in-person and video lectures by zoom and other software programs. It is difficult to predict what the circumstances will be in Los Angeles in September 2022 but hopefully pandemic free!

Welcome Message from the President

Dear colleagues, guests, and friends of ISOLS,

We hope that this message finds you, your family and your loved ones safe and well at this difficult time.

The International Society of Limb Salvage (ISOLS) Governing Board is diverse with global representation. As a proud member of this leadership group I would like to welcome you to Los Angeles, California, the site of the 21st General Meeting of ISOLS. I am excited to host this meeting at the UCLA Luskin Convention center on the UCLA main campus from 6 to 9 September, 2022.

We are fortunate to have tremendous support from the leadership of UCLA Health to host this event along with many companies with similar expectations. The UCLA Department of Orthopaedic Surgery and ISOLS have scheduled an exciting meeting for all those interested in musculoskeletal tumors. It will include presentations on basic science, clinical trials, and translational projects dealing with limb salvage. Problems that have persisted for many years will be a common theme and approaches to solve them will only come from diverse thought processes which are novel.

We want to give all those interested a chance to communicate their thoughts in various formats used previously in ISOLS meetings. Plenary lectures, crossfire sessions, symposia, round-table discussion and debates will focus on the most current and controversial topics in musculoskeletal oncology. We need time to allow for all physicians, scientists and colleagues to present their ideas and ask provocative questions. Discussions are crucial and in many circumstances more important than the presented material that can be read or just announced.

We welcome you to Los Angeles, California, and hope your stay is exciting and rewarding to you.

Best regards and safe travels,

Francis John Hornicek
President of the ISOLS 2022 General Meeting
